COMMON SENSE

Leads most intelligent people to use only medicines of known composition. Therefore it is that Dr. Pierce's medicines, the makers of which print every ingredient entering into them upon the bottle wrappers and attest its correctness under oath, are daily growing in favor. The composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines is open to everybody. Dr. Pierce being desirous of having the search light of investigation turned fully upon his formulæ, being confident that the better the composition of these medicines is known the more will their great curative merits be recognized. Being wholly made of the active medicinal principles extracted from native forest roots, by exact processes original with Dr. Pierce, and without the use of a drop of alcohol, triple-refined and chemically pure glycerine being used instead in extracting and preserving the curative virtues residing in the roots employed, these medicines are entirely free from the objection of doing harm by creating an appetite for either alcoholic beverages or habit-forming drugs. Examine the formula on their bottle wrappers—the same as sworn to by Dr. Pierce, and you will find that his "Golden Medical Discovery," the great, blood-purifier, stomach tonic and bowel regulator—the medicine which, while not recommended to cure consumption in its advanced stages (no medicine will do that) yet does cure all those catarrhal conditions of head and throat, weak stomach, torpid liver and bronchial troubles, weak lungs and hang-on-coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated lead up to and finally terminate in consumption.

Take the "Golden Medical Discovery" in time and it is not likely to disappoint you if only you give it a thorough and fair trial. Don't expect miracles. It won't do supernatural things. You must exercise your patience and persevere in its use for a reasonable length of time to get its full benefits. The ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed have the unqualified endorsement of scores of medical leaders—better than any amount of lay, or non-professional, testimonials. They are not given away to be experimented with but are sold by all dealers in medicines at reasonable prices.

GIRL KILLS A DOCTOR.

The second woman in 16 months to pull a pistol on Dr. Martin W. Auspitz murdered him at dusk last night in the vestibule of the flat house at 131 west One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, New York. She is Miss Sarah Koten, a girl of 22 years, who, until six weeks ago, was a nurse in Dr. Ausditz's private hospital. Her plea is that he had wronged her.

From 11 o'clock yesterday morning until 7:10 in the evening Sarah Koten sat on the steps of the home where she has been boarding at 127 west One Hundred and Thirth-fifth street, New York, with a black bag such as doctors carry on the step beside her. In the bag was a new revolver. Diagonally across the street was the house where sometime in the course of the day, she expected Dr. Auspitz to go calling on a patient. There was no patient except a hypothetical one the girl had invented. The doctor, down at his office in east Ninty-third street, got a telephone call in a woman's voice saying that he was wanted at 131 west One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street.

The voice said that there was a sick person there. The name was something like Di Mario. Dr. Auspitz, recollecting that he had a patient of some such name, replied that he would get around in the course of the day, and toward evening he picked up his satchel and started. He got off a car and walked into the house.

The girl across the street snatched her black bag and strolled across the way. She walked up the steps as far as the outer door of the house where the doctor had gone, then wheeled around and stood leaning against the brass railing of the stoop. The doctor rummaged through all four floors of the house and at every door got the reply:

"There's nobody like Di Mario living here."

Finally he gave up the hunt and had just emerged through the inner door of the main hallway when Sarah Koten came forward, pulling the pistol from her bag. She did not say anything. She just fired. The doctor's kit went flying one way and his cigar the other. He fell backward, bumped against the door and slid to the floor. He died in a short time. The girl was arrested.

Southern Literature.

[Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

New York, June 3.—Southern literature is to receive special recognition from New York University during the coming session of the summer school. Professor Charles William Kent, head of the English department of the University of Virginia, has been secured to give a special course of thirty hours on "Southern Literature, With Special Studies of Southern Poets." This course is peculiarly fitting for the University, as the summer school on University Heights is located within half a mile of the cottage where Poe wrote the "Bells" and many other of his poems. One of the features of this course will be excursions to this literary landmark. Professor Kent announces that he will trace the development of southern letters from the settlement of Jamestown to the present era. The poets used to illustrate the later periods will be Poe, Simms, Timrod, Hayne, Ryan, Thompson, Lanier, Hope, Mrs. Preston, and several living poets. Professor Kent is president of the Poe Memorial Association and editor of several of Poe's works. He is also engaged in editing a collection of southern literary works. Professor Kent's summer lectures will be given close to the Hall of Fame, for which the friends of Poe have not yet been able to secure a tablet for that southern writer. Professor Kent will give also a course on Shakespeare as a dramatic artist.

SUICIDE OF A PHYSICIAN.

After holding the police at bay for six hours Dr. Joseph Pospisiel, an employe of the Pension Office, in Washington, shot himself through the brain yesterday morning while insane. Laboring under a delusion that an attempt was being made to murder him, he fired at pedestrians and into the homes of his neighbors, and when the police came he reloaded his pistol and fired upon them, preventing their near approach to the house. Altogether he fired about 50 shots in this way, none of which, however, took effect.

Before gaining himself Pospisiel passed his three little children through the second-story window to persons in the adjoining house. His wife remained with him, endeavoring to quiet him, but becoming alarmed when he opened fire on the policemen, she joined her children in the neighbor's house. At the time he shot himself Pospisiel was sitting in the second-story window of his home. He first rolled up his sleeve and injected cocaine in his arm to steady himself for the fatal shot. He plunged forward to the ground and died on the way to the hospital. Dr Pospisiel went to Washington from Wisconsin about 18 years ago.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Alexandria, Va., June 6, 1908.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the dog or canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $5 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that other pay on one or two dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make applicat on for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

Attention is also called to the fact that while the payment of a license tax is required by the laws of the city whether a dog is kept on the premises of the owner at all times or not, yet the payment of such tax does not entitle the dog to the unrestricted use of the streets and alleys of the city, both day and night, for it is provided by law that "The Mayor in addition at any and all times, in his discretion, by proclamation shall declare that all such dogs as above licensed shall be securely muzzled, and if any such dogs be found running at large during the continuance of such proclamation without the required muzzle they shall be seized by the police force, or other persons designated by the Mayor for such purposes," and conveyed to a suitable place and destroyed.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 8, 1908

TOMORROW'S ELECTION.

It is earnestly hoped every democratic voter will cast his ballot at the election tomorrow. There should, in fact, be no reason for this exhortation, as each member of the party should consider it his pleasant duty to roll up as large a vote as possible. While the contest between Messrs C. C. Carlin and R. Lindsey Gordon for the democratic nomination for Congress has practically overshadowed everything else, a mayor, alderman and members of the Common Council are to be voted for. It is true that the latter have no opposition, but this is no reason why any one should neglect to vote. In reference to the selection of the candidate for Congress, the Gazette reiterates, in a measure, what it has heretofore said. Mr. C. C. Carlin should by all means receive the vote of his native city as well as a good majority in the district. He has served but half a year in Congress, but during that time he has shown himself equal to any emergency, and has worked indefatigably in the interests of his constituents. He has been faithful in his stewardship, and should consequently receive the endorsement of the district he is so faithfully representing. This should especially be the case in Alexandria, his home city.

THE scheme of the "allies" to bolt the action of the republican national committee, withdraw from the contests and turn the whole thing over to the committee on credentials of the national committee collapsed completely in Chicago yesterday. Late Saturday night, after backing and filling over the proposition all day, Senator Hemenway, Senator Crane and Congressman Burke decided definitely to give up the fight before the committee. Yesterday they began to get scared and went into session again. With them were A. B. Humphrey, Hughes' manager, Joseph B. Kealing; Fairbanks' manager and John C. Eversman, of the Cannon management. They started in again at the beginning and went over the whole proposition. In the afternoon after several hours' session, it was practically decided to rescind the decision of Saturday night. Notwithstanding this they remained in session until after 5 o'clock and then after seeing new light the "allies" issued a statement declaring that they had changed their minds and would continue to submit their contests to the republican national committee! The threat to bolt was a bluff which did not scare the Taft managers and when the anti-Taft "allies" were told they were giving the party a black eye they came right down.

WORD has been sent out from Washington that the platform which will be adopted at the Chicago convention and on which the republican party will stand during the next campaign has been completed with the exception of a few details, which will be left for the committee on resolutions to insert. The work has been done by Mr. Wade Ellis, Attorney-General of Ohio, the draftsman of the recent Ohio State platform; Senator A. J. Hopkins, of Illinois, who will be the chairman of the committee on resolutions; Senator Long, of Kansas, and a few others, including the president and Secretary Taft, who have been freely consulted. The policies of President Roosevelt will be indorsed unequivocally, and this indorsement will be the central idea of the document. Yet, the convention will not meet for over a week! The proceedings of the convention, however, have already been cut and dried according to the plans of Mr. Roosevelt and all the convention will be called upon to do will be to ratify his programme.

WILLIAM LLOYD GARRISON attacked the policy of President Roosevelt in the planning of more "Dreadnoughts" for the American navy. He said:

The president's dream of national pomp and power has called into expression the latent brutality of the masses. Battleships are a provocation to war, not a preventive. While faith in the efficacy of violence prevails, the sacredness of human life never can be impressed upon mankind. Every fresh million spent for physical force means a double loss to the nation's intellectual and moral force. Every "Dreadnought" adds to the poverty and debasement of the people.

Peace is the best guarantee of prosperity. Fair dealing affords the best surety of peace. Free trade among the nations is the strongest bond of advantage to hold all the races of the earth together by ties of common interest. This is the gospel as delivered by Mr. Garrison in his oration before the yearly meeting of Progressive Friends at Longwood Saturday.

IT is explained in Washington that none of the suits against railroads and other corporations for violating the Sherman and Elkins laws will be pushed at present. The attorney general says of the cases against the Standard Oil: "Owing to certain unforeseen happenings it will not be practicable to try them for several months." In commenting on this the Philadelphia Record says:

But perhaps it is the foreseen happenings that cause the delay. It might be unfavorable for the administration candidate for the presidency to have all the corporations in the country kept on edge during the campaign. Furthermore it would hurt the prestige of the administration to be beaten, and it might increase the opposition to it if it won. But, of course, it must keep up the appearance of war on the corporations, and all the requirements of the situation are nicely met by instituting the proceedings and leaving their prosecution till after the election.

A COMMITTEE of the Alumni Associations of the Yale Divinity School, in a report to the school on the present dearth of candidates for the ministry, finds it due in part to the low compensation in the work of the ministry as part of the materialism of the age, and partly to a misconception as to the range of the minister's work. The committee adds that the traditional methods of evangelism do not appeal to the ministry as compared with social and civic reforms. There was a time when men who felt themselves called of God entered the ministry having no thought of monetary compensation but only to do the will of Him who sent them, but times change and men with them.

LOOK OUT for trouble in Cuba about August 1, for that is election day there, when each province will elect a governor and eight councilmen and the municipalities electing mayors and councilmen.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., June 8.

Attorney General Wade Ellis, of Ohio, chief platform maker of the Taft forces, called upon Secretary Taft today to take leave, on the eve of his departure for Chicago. Reposing in his inside pocket was the draft of the platform which will be put before the convention as Taft's political pedestal with the exception of the tariff plank which is to be enlarged, the platform is identical with that used in the Ohio campaign. It provides for a maximum and minimum tariff to be adjusted at a special session of Congress immediately after Taft's inauguration if he is elected. In other respects the platform is the same concise and pointed documents as that used in Ohio.

The Navy Department was notified today by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company that the armored cruiser Montana, which they are constructing, will be completed and turned over to the government, at the Norfork navy yard on June 25. This will be the last of eight new warships to be completed by the respective buildings since the first of the year. Besides the Montana, these vessels are the battleship New Hampshire, Idaho and Mississippi, Scout cruiser Chester, Salem and Birmingham and the North Carolina, the latter being the Montana's sister ship. All of them are now in commission. This leaves only two—the Delaware and the Torpedo and submarine boat which were contracted for last fall under constuctions.

The Isthmian Canal commission was notified today by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company that six more of the big steel barges being constructed by that company for use on the canal zone will be completed during the present month. Six of these barges were delivered last month and the builders expect to deliver during the month of July the remaining 12 of the total of 24 contracted for last fall.

Herbert G. Squiers, American Minister to Panama, who has been summoned to Washington by Secretary Root to explain the tortuous way of the Panama political campaign, called at the State Department today, and, in the absence of Secretary Root, had a conference with Assistant Secretary Bacon. Mr. Squiers declined to discuss the Panama situation until he has seen Secretary Root and refused to throw any light upon the report of his alleged interference.

"We will fight it out in Chicago, said Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, today when he arrived at his office and read the resolution of protest from New Yorkers against the insertion of an anti-injunction plank in the republican national platform. The entire legislative council of the American Federation will go to Chicago as a result of the protest of the New Yorkers. Headquarters will be established at the Kaiserhoff, and Gompers himself will start for the convention city Thursday to take charge. "We will go to Chicago to assert our rights with the hope that the great gathering of republicans will not be insensible to them," said Gompers. His wrath rose as he interpreted the protest to mean that the federation has attacked the integrity of the courts, State and national. "It is false," he declared. "I believe in the courts. Organized labor does. We have not attacked their integrity, but that the right of injunction has been abused no one can deny." He glanced at the list of signers. "Ah, most of them are either the attorneys, representatives or beneficiaries of great corporations. Do you notice it?"

General opinion among republicans here is in favor of the inclusion in the republican national platform to be adopted at Chicago next week of a straight out declaration of confidence in the integrity of the courts as outlined in the New York memorial. It is, of course, pointed out that no such declaration would be necessary were it not for the possibility that the demagogic politicians in either party might endeavor to work into their platforms attacks upon the federal judiciary in furtherance of the recent campaign in Congress in favor of anti-injunction legislation. Both democrats and republicans during the recent session were divided on this question, hesitating where to draw the line in limiting the powers of the courts in the issuance of injunctions. It was impossible to secure the united support of a majority of either party to any of the numerous bills that were offered and this matter, among others, went over for determination next winter. The plank in the democratic platform of four years ago which charged federal judges with governing by injunction, "in contempt of the laws of States and of the rights of citizens," was apologized for by democratic speakers more frequently than any other during that campaign. But the present move initiated in New York is intended to squarely meet a possible repetition of that attack. There may be a question of the advisability of advertising to the world—and making a party issue of it—that the integrity of the courts of the United States is in doubt. This it is believed will be the only possible ground for any hesitation in writing the proposed plank into the republican platform next week.

Secretary Metcalf announced today that the names of the new battleships authorized by the recent congress would be Florida and Utah. The next battleship authorized will be named Wyoming.

William R. Wheeler, of California, today took the oath of office as assistant secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

The Tariff Commission appointed under the recent trade agreement with France will meet in Washington this week, preparatory to their departure on June 27 for France, where they will meet Consul-General Mason and begin their work.

Governor Magoon, who was to have acted as umpire in Panama lands claim cases, will not go to the Isthmus owing to the pressure of conditions in Cuba. As a result of the activity attendant upon the coming elections in the island, and other political matters of import, the War Department decided today not to take Governor Magoon away at this time.

Senator Bourne still believes that the Chicago convention will renominate President Roosevelt and is just as enthusiastic as ever in his "second elective term" propaganda.

News of the Day.

The Merrick and Hadley plants of the American Thread Company have received orders for a reduction of wages ranging between 5 and 10 per cent.

Rev. David Barr, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church at Takoma Park, Montgomery county, Md., has tendered his resignation, which will take place next month. He conducted his farewell service yesterday. Ill health is given as the cause for his action.

The standing committee of the Diocese of Washington has decided to call the diocesan convention to elect a bishop of Washington to succeed the late Henry Y. Satterlee, and in place of Bishop Brent, of the Philippines, who declined, on Wednesday, June 17, at the Church of the Epiphany.

Rev. Dr. Milton H. Mill, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, in Baltimore, died yesterday of typhoid pneumonia, aged fifty-one. Worry over the condition of his wife, who recently was operated on for appendicitis had so weakened Dr. Mill, the physicians say, that he had no strength to resist the disease. His wife, though still seriously ill, was at his bedside when he died.

THE PLATFORM.

Unequivocal indorsement of President Roosevelt's policies is contained in the republican national platform as drawn up by Wade Ellis, of Ohio, and approved by the president, Secretary Taft and their friends.

A summary of the planks, which the convention next week will be asked to indorse, and which was made public in Washington last night, indicates that the Aldrich-Vreeland bill will be designated as a temporary measure insuring against another panic while the republican leaders are preparing a sound permanent currency system.

Revision of the tariff, limitation of the injunction power of the courts and modification of the Sherman anti-trust law to allow reasonable combinations, are among the other planks.

In Chicago the "allied" candidates who have combined against Taft, announced they had changed their minds and would continue the contests before the national committee.

Taft's manager, Frank H. Hitchcock, declined the proposition offered by his opponents to seat all contesting delegates in the south in the interest of harmony, giving each faction half a vote.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

The democratic State convention will meet in Roanoke on Thursday for the purpose of electing delegates to the national convention in Denver.

The convention, composed of more than 800 delegates, will be called to order in the Academy of Music at 12 o'clock by State Chairman J. Taylor Ellyson, who will present the temporary officers chosen by the State committee on the preceding night.

These, according to the present outlook, will be Hon. Richard E. Byrd, of Winchester, chairman, and Mr. J. N. Brenaman, of Shenandoah, secretary.

There are at least three propositions which may provoke sharp discussions. One is the question of instructions, another the abolition of the primary plan, and the third the selection of the electors at large.

It is thought that the convention will conclude its work before Friday night

TORNADOS.

A tornado struck Charles City, Iowa, yesterday evening, demolishing about 200 buildings and killing W. R. Beck and a child. Three children are reported missing.

The tornado started three miles southeast of the town, tearing down farm houses and barns and killing many head of stock. It plowed a path ten rods wide through Charles City and spent itself a few miles from town. The tornado just missed the buildings of Charles City College. Barns were carried several blocks, trees torn up by the roots, and in some instances driven through buildings. Water was lifted from the channel of the river which flows through the town.

A tornado struck the farm of John Dalton near Maustun, Wis., yesterday afternoon, destroying the house and barn and killing Dalton and his twelve-year-old son Philip.

"NATIONAL HOLIDAYS."

A construction of the words "national holidays" used in connection with the issue of dressed chicken or turkey in army garrison rations, has been made by the War Department. They are construed to mean such days as are declared legal holidays by the federal government and that are of general observance. They embrace New Year's day, Washington's birthday, Memorial day, Independence day, Labor day, Thanksgiving day and Christmas.

Virginia News.

D. Lawrence Groner will leave Norfolk tonight for Chicago to defend all the Virginia contests before the republican national committee. These contests are expected to be taken up before that body Tuesday morning.

A feature of the democratic convention, of Pittsylvania county, held Saturday at Chatham, was the election of Senator John W. Daniel as one of the delegates-at-large to the State convention to be held at Roanoke.

Thomas Norman, fourteen years old, a messenger for a telegraph company, in Norfolk, on Saturday shot and wounded Nicholas Wroten, who, it is alleged, had attacked the boy's mother, Mrs. G. W. Rhodes, aged thirty, in her bed room at her home, where Wroten was boarding.

Having paid its depositors in full, and placed its outstanding paper in the hands of other banks for collection, the American Exchange Bank of Newport News closed its doors Saturday night. The institution has been liquidating quietly for several months. F. F. Finch, president of the bank, and one of the wealthiest men in the city, will leave for Europe shortly, and upon his return will locate elsewhere. The bank was established about twelve years ago with a $50,000 capital stock. There was a surplus of $12,000 at the close of business.

Fulton, a suburb of Richmond, is considerably stirred over the simultaneous elopements of Mrs. Lizzie Bingley with Fred W. Pocklington and Mrs. Ivy Hamilton with David Martin. Both of the men are also married and leave wives and children behind them. As a result of the double runaway the husbands are distracted, two wives destitute and several small children remain to grow up with the shadow of disgrace upon them. Mrs. Kate Martin received a telegram yesterday from the truant, dated at Baltimore, in which he said he did not intend to return to Richmond.

FOOD PRODUCTS.

Two acts passed by the Legislature of 1908, the one an act entitled—

"An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of adulterated, mis-branded poisonous or deleterious foods or liquors, and to repeal an act to prevent the sale of adulterated and mis-branded feeds in the State of Virginia."

The other,—

"An act concerning the appointment of a dairy and food commissioner within the department of agriculture and immigration and imposing penalties for its violation."

These acts are intended to regulate the sale of food products for man and beast, and have for their purpose the protection of the consumer from adulterated, mis-branded, impure and unwholesome foods, and the guarding against imposition by the unscrupulous manufacturer or dealer in the sale of feeding stuffs for cattle, and to give to the consuming public the assurance that it is receiving that for which it pays.

Provision is also made for inspection of dairies, bakeries and ice cream establishments, the purpose being to protect consumers from unsanitary conditions which might exist about such places.

The execution of these laws has been placed with the Dairy and Food Commissioner, whose office is in Richmond.

The law provides for the payment of a tax or license fee by the manufacturer or dealer offering for sale in the State feeding stuffs, condimental foods and cattle powders for cattle, and a license fee for creameries, dairies, milk stations, etc., doing business in the State, and provides penalties for failure to comply with its provisions. It is, therefore, suggested that all dealers and manufacturers of food products and cattle feeds, condimental feeds and cattle powders, and proprietors of dairies, etc., acquaint themselves with the provisions of these statutes, copies of which can be had from the office of State Dairy and Food Commissioner, Richmond Va.

ILL-FATED TRAIN.

The F. F. V. Limited on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, between New York and Cincinnati, proved ill-fated while passing through West Virginia yesterday, being wrecked twice within a few hours.

Engineer James Malone, of Thurmond sustained injuries from which he may die, and three passengers were slightly injured. One of the injured was Mrs. Margaret Davidson, of Washington, D. C., who was painfully bruised.

At Whitcomb a small station near Hinton, W. Va., the engine tender left the rails and was followed by the express car, mail car, combination coach, and one sleeper. In this wreck none of the cars was overturned, and no one was injured.

The passengers were transferred to a new train, which had gone only fifty miles, when four sleepers and the diner went off the track.

Engineer Malone was riding in a smoking compartment of a sleeper, and leaped through a window. He broke an arm, bruised a leg, and probably was injured internally.

It was in the second wreck that three passengers were injured, including Mrs. Davidson.

The cause of the first wreck could not be ascertained, but the second, it is said, was due to the track buckling, owing to excessive heat.

HE ROCKED THE BOAT.

Because W. Harris Willington, of Roxborough, Pa., persisted in rocking a boat in deep water on the Schuylkill yesterday afternoon, Miss Bessie Rostum, of Umbria street, Manayunk, a companion, picked up an oar and knocked him overboard.

"A man is a fool for rocking a boat containing a woman," she said before making the swing that landed Willington in the stream. Of course, Willington supposed she was joking, and kept up the "sport."

As he struggled in the river Miss Rostum pulled at the oars, and rowed the other member of the party, Miss Mary Gorston, on to Manayunk. Willington swam ashore, but he was so exhausted that George Whitehead had to help him out of the water.

A CARD FROM MR. HARRISON.

I desire to say that I have paid my taxes since I was 21 years old, and have the receipts for the same. This statement is necessary from the fact that Mr. R. L. Gordon has published the name of a J. T. Harrison as being delinquent

JOHN T. HARRISON,
Member of Council from the Third Ward.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Greeks and Italians Fight.

Attleboro, Mass., June 8.—By the arrest of 17 leaders in last night's riot the police believe they have put an end to the race war between Greeks and Italians employed at south Attleboro on street railway work. Before the arrests were made there was a pitched battle in which a dozen men were shot. Trouble had been brewing between the Italians and Greeks since the construction work began. Yesterday morning there was a fight between a Greek and an Italian which the authorities broke up. Last night as about forty Italians were passing the Greek camp they were fired on and a pitched battle followed. When Deputy Sheriff Nerney arrived with a posse of eight the foreigners ceased fighting each other and turned on the sheriff and his men. The prisoners will be arraigned today.

Nicholas Goes to Meet Edward.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—Emperor Nicholas left for Reval today by rail, the plans for the trip by water having been abandoned on account of rough water. The fleet, however, sailed yesterday, according to programme. The emperor got away quietly. Upon reaching Reval the emperor will go immediately to the imperial yacht Polar Star, and it is there that the first of the ceremonies between him and King Edward will take place. The Victoria and Albert, King Edward's yacht, and the escorting fleet passed Kiel yesterday and is making the trip to the Gulf of Finland in leisurely manner. Reval is in gala attire in honor of the event.

Black Hand Member Sentenced.

Wilmington, Del., June 8.—Alfonso Valzone, an alleged member of the Black Hand society, was tried in the courts here today on the charge of attempting to extort $6,000 for Raffaelo Julian, a wealthy Italian merchant and was sentenced to three years imprisonment. In addition to the extortion charge the prisoner was also tried on the charge of larceny of a revolver which was found on him at the time of his arrest. For this latter offense he was given six months and ten lashes at the whipping post.

Plot Frustrated.

Lisbon, June 8.—A well-developed plot to blow up King Manuel and the whole Portuguese royal family during the religious feast to be held June 18 was frustrated by the police today. Three ring-leaders, members of the Society of the Black Cross, are under arrest, and the police are using every effort to apprehend their accomplices. A large number of bombs were found in the rendezvous of the Black Cross plotters and unmistakable evidence discovered that the feast of June 18 was to be made the occasion of the most dastardly attack on royalty ever attempted.

Negro Murderer Still at Large.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 8.—Although wounded and pursued by more than a hundred men bent on his capture, dead or alive, James Kingsbury, negro outlaw, who killed Sheriff Garrison, has temporarily given his pursuers the slip. Today fresh posses joined the hunt. A negro who confessed to driving the outlaw to Kingfisher said Kingsbury has serious wounds, but expects to escape. He is armed with a winchester and two revolvers and has plenty of ammunition. A report that a race battle had been fought proved untrue, but one is feared.

Killed by Cyclone.

La Crosse, Wis., June 8.—Two persons were killed and three seriously injured today by a freak cyclone which demolished the house of John Dalton near Liadina, Juneau county. Dalton and his 13-year-old son, were instantly killed and Mrs. Dalton, her daughter and a young man who had been courting the girl were seriously injured. All the farm buildings were demolished and the horses killed. The freakish character of the storm is shown by the fact that Dalton's house was the only one in the valley touched by the cyclone.

Hitchcock's Trial.

New York, June 8.—With a street organ below grinding the tunes from the opera with which he so often convulsed his audiences, Raymond Hitchcock, star of "The Yankee Consul," today crossed the Bridge of Sighs to appear at his trial on charges brought by Helen von Hagen, 16 years old, before Justice Goff. The work of selecting a jury is in progress. Hitchcock will make his home in a cell in the Tombs till his trial is finished, his lawyer having given up all hope of obtaining his release on habeas corpus proceedings.

Pay Train Attacked By Bandits

Mexico City, June 8.—Advices from Balzas, in the State of Guerrero, state that bandits attacked a pay-train on the way to the Los Grandes mines, near Balzas last night. The pay-train was accompanied by four armed men. Three of these were killed and one wounded. The bandits escaped with $4,000. Rurales are in pursuit.

Found Swarm of Bees on Bay.

Laurel, Del., June 8.—While Clarence Baynard was crabbing a swarm of bees settled in his boat Saturday. He tried to fight them off, but, after receiving many stings, was compelled to jump overboard. Towing the boat ashore he secured a beehive and captured the swarm of honeymakers.

Town Destroyed by Fire.

Constantinople, June 8.—Unauthoi, a small town on the Bosphorous, was practically destroyed by fire last night. More than 200 residences and nearly the whole of the business section were wiped out. Several people are reported missing and the ruins are being searched for bodies.

Looking for Forger.

Mexico City, June 8.—Local police have been asked to assist in the search for Ernesto R. Uriguijo, wanted on a charge of obtaining $61,000 from the Bank of Jalisco in Guadalajara by means of a forged letter of credit. Uriguijo is believed to have fled the country.

Attempted Murder and Suicide.

Boston, June 8.—Because his young wife would not work and help support the family, Antonio Pinotti shot her today and then killed himself. The woman is in a serious condition.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup is the one that children like so well to take as it tastes nearly as good as maple sugar. It acts gently yet freely on the bowels and thereby it drives the cold out of the system. It is sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Taft Delegates Seated

The action of the committee in the First Georgia district contest brought the first compromise effort by the members of the committee that has been made since the sessions began. This contest involved two votes. Senator Scott, of West Virginia, moved that the votes be divided, one for Taft and one against. The motion was defeated.

Just before noon the committee discovered that the partition wall dividing the committee room from the ante room was bulging and fearing it might collapse, the committeed adjourned until carpenters could fix it.

Just after noon the Taft delegates in the Second and Third districts of Georgia, were seated by the national committee, making a net gain for Taft of 8 delegates since the committee met today.

To Develop the Spiritual.

New York, June 8.—With rose leaves as her staple diet and fruit and nuts as side dishes, Mrs. Ida Benfy Judd, of fashionable Central Park West, declared today that she would devote the next 130 years of her life—till 2138—to following the creeds of the ancient philosophers and thus proving the proper methods of existence. Mrs. Judd is well known among the exponents of the "higher thought" who are striving to love as Plato loved; to live after the economy of Epictetus, and to think along the scientific lines of Socrates. "My life work," she said today, "will be to begin with Job, and after developing his mental attitude I shall go through man's scale of imagination till I am entirely spiritual. I shall live 130 years to accomplish it. The development of Job's ideal alone will take fifty years."

Packers Hoist Beef Prices.

Chicago, June 8.—There is a big shortage in the beef supply and the packers have hoisted the prices to the highest point of the year. Packers declare the shortage prompted a reshipment of 210,000 pounds of meat from England and is due to the backward condition of the cattle market.

Chicago meat dealers say the condition was brought about within the past week, when shipments of cattle received at the stock yards were less than one-half of those received in the same period last year. There is, however, an abundant supply of lamb and pork, and the packers are not alarmed over the possibility of a famine in the entire meat supply.

Miners Fight.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 8.—As the result of a strike settlement at the Empire No. 1 mine in eastern Ohio today, Italians, who did not understand the terms of the settlement, attacked the English-speaking workmen with a view of preventing them from going in the mine. When Mike Preoro assaulted Brown Miller with a mine pick and the American fired two shots, causing Preoro's death, other English-speaking miners drew guns to prevent a general attack by the Italians, who are in the majority. After the police arrived and quelled the trouble Miller gave himself up.

Gompers to Fight.

New York, June 8.—That the fight made by Samuel Gompers and the labor leaders of the country against the government by injunction and the alleged pro-capitalistic inclinations of the federal courts promises to bear fruit at Chicago, next week was indicted today when it became known that eighteen of the foremost republicans of the country have drawn a memorial which will be presented to the committee on resolution of the National Convention requesting that the platform include an absolute declaration against infringement of the constitutional prerogatives of the courts.

One Thousand Men in Bread Line.

New York, June 8.—Not more than half enough bread was on hand last night and early today to feed the 1,000 men who stood for hours in the "bread line" at Fleischmann's bakery. When the "all out" word was given, hundreds, faint from hunger and worn by fatigue, turned wearily away. It was the second longest "bread line" New York had ever seen and gave an idea of the extent of poverty and destitution in this city.

Named as Corespondent.

Baltimore, Md., June 8.—Former United States Senator George L. Wellington, of Maryland, who resides at Cumberland, was today named as corespondent in a divorce suit filed in this city by Dr. Pierce B. Wilson, jr., against his wife, Mrs. Talitha Wilson. The allegations are pretty severe, and the alleged offenses date back several years.

Fleeing from Volcano.

San Francisco, June 8.—Inhabitants of the Matatantu district on the island of Savaii have fled to adjoining islands and mountain peaks to escape the fury of the volcano Mu, which is again in a state of violent eruption. It is said that a huge river of lava is flowing from the volcano and has covered miles of territory.

Belmont Sinking.

New York, June 8.—A bulletin issued at 8:30 from the residence of O. H. P. Belmont, states that he is sinking and that little hope is entertained that he will live through the day. He passed a very bad night. Four physicians are in attendance.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 8.—The market held strong during the first half hour, prices making irregular gains over the opening figures, but a selling movement caused a sharp reaction in the latter part of the hour after which many of the early advances were lost and in some case net declines of around one point were sustained.

The market was firm but dull with fluctuations confined to limits of small fractions.

BATTLE OF NEW ROSS.

Today is the one hundred and tenth anniversary of the battle of New Ross, County Wexford, Ireland, of which the historian has so vividly portrayed and which all Irishmen refer to with a deep feeling of pride. The principal combatants in this battle were the united Irish army under General Bagenal Harvey and the British troops commanded by Major-General Johnson. The battle was precipitated by the murder of a Mr. Furlong, aid-de-camp to General Harvey, who was treacherously shot while bearing a flag of truce to General Johnson, of the British soldierly. The battle lasted thirteen hours, and after being repulsed four times, and amid frightful carnage on both sides, the Irish completely routed the British and won for themselves a most glorious victory.

BRYAN'S LEAD.

For Bryan, 540; for Johnson, 25; for Gray, 6; not pledged by resolutions, 213. Of those unpledged, the Nebraskan is generally conceded 60 per cent. of the delegates.

Bryan has won the democratic nomination for the presidency, on the face of the returns to date. There yet remain 210 delegates to be elected.

If the Nebraska leader maintains the proportion of delegates he has already, he will have votes to spare above the necessary two-thirds, required to nominate. Among the states yet to select delegates are several which have been counted upon confidently by the Bryan opposition.

THE ELECTION TOMORROW.

The nomination of a democratic candidate for Congress from this district will take place tomorrow. The friends of Mr. C. C. Carlin, the present incumbent, are optimistic, and presage his election by a substantial majority—some placing the figures at 1,200; others, however, believe it will approximate 2,000. Those favoring Mr. R. L. Gordon are also hopeful, and believe their champion will secure the nomination.

A general election for mayor and an alderman from each ward will also take place, as well as for two members from each ward to the lower board of the City Council. The democratic nominees have no opposition.

Under the law all places where liquor is sold will be closed from 6 o'clock this evening until 6 o'clock Wednesday morning. The proprietors of such places have been notified that the law will be enforced.

CAMPAIGN WAXES WARM.

The day preceding the election finds the campaign waxing warm and the candidates taking exception to everything said in political debate. The Gordon faction and Mr. Gordon himself are very much disturbed by a remark credited to Mr. Carlin in his speech at Leesburg June 1st in which, it is claimed, he said that "they had paid Mr. John S. Barbour, assistant division counsel of the Southern Railway, a fee to speak in their behalf in Leesburg." Mr. Gordon and his friends construe Carlin's language to mean that his opponent—R. L. Gordon—had paid Mr. Barbour for his services. They say that neither Mr. Barbour nor Mr. Gordon had been able to get a denial from Mr. Carlin to them, although they had tried for two days to obtain this, Mr. Stringfellow having gone to his office and home several times. Mr. Carlin speaks at Herndon tonight and Messrs. Barbour and Gordon will meet him and ask him to deny or affirm the report of his speech taken by a stenographer for Mr. Gordon and his friends.

It is understood that in his speech at Falls Church Saturday night Mr. Carlin disclaimed having made any such statement as that attributed to him at Leesburg.

Mr. Carlin before he left for Herndon this morning denied to friends that he made any such remark in Leesburg as that attributed to him.

MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES.

Many ladies and gentlemen of Alexandria yesterday afternoon accompanied members of R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans, M. D. Corse Camp of Sons of Confederate Veterans, and of the Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to Arlington, where the Confederate memorial exercises were held. A large number of Washingtonians were present, as well as people from Alexandria county and the surrounding country. The services were impressive throughout and they were witnessed with interest. The speakers were fluent and they kept the attention of their hearers.

"I look forward to the day when those of the north and those of the south will join alike in decorating the graves of the common dead."

This was the sentiment voiced by Gov. Robert B. Glenn, of North Carolina. Governor Glenn and Representative Thetus W. Sims, of Tennessee, were the orators.

After eulogizing Gen. Robert E. Lee as one the greatest chieftains the world has produced, Governor Glenn made a significent reference to General Grant. "Every true southern man respects Grant for his kindness at Appomattox," he said, "and the Southland would not rake up an error of the past to blacken his character.

"I can truthfully say," continued the governor, "that I long to see the day when the name of Abraham Lincoln and Ulysses Grant shall be loved and respected in every nook and corner of the old Confederacy, and where the names of Lee and Jackson will be cheered in Maine, Massachusetts and California.

Representative Sims, who followed, declared that the southern people would never forget their ideals.

The graves of the Confederate dead, the unknown dead and of Gen. Joseph Wheeler were decorated.

SPRING PARK.

As heretofore stated the tract of land near the Union station is to be improved and made into a modern settlement. It will have all the conveniences that are usually associated with modern living. The streets are to be opened and curbed and sidewalks laid and sewer and water provided. The houses are to be entirely detached with ample lawn space front and rear, and are to be placed on the market at a moderate figure so as to prove attractive to people who have moderate means and yet who want to have their homes amid good surroundings. This enterprise is to be carried out by a number of capitalists living in Philadelphia, Washington and elsewhere. The Alexandria Water Company and the city gas committee have received application for furnishing water and gas for the houses which are at once to be erected on the land.

A. L. I.

Members of the Alexandria Light Infantry, formerly Company G, Seventieth Virginia Regiment, Virginia Volunteers, will hold a meeting tonight, at which time, it is expected, plans will be outlined for holding Armory Hall.

POLICE COURT.

[Justice L. H. Thompson presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Nellie Carver, colored, charged with lunacy, was held.

Charles Gibson, colored, charged with assaulting Alfred Lane, was fined $5.

Walter Cornwell, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5.

Joseph Carroll, colored, charged with assaulting Lizzie Carter, forfeited $5 by failing to appear.

DEATH OF A COLORED MAN.

At an early hour yesterday morning a colored man was seen lying near the corner of Wilkes and St. Asaph streets. It was said that some time previously a man and two women had placed him there. Officers Young and Knight soon appeared and upon an examination they supposed the man was suffering from fits and had him removed to the Alexandria Hospital, where he died shortly before noon. His remains were removed to Demaine & Son's undertaking establishment. It was learned that Reece Morrison was the name of the deceased and that he had recently been working in Fairfax county. Dr. Moore, the coroner, made a post mortem examination yesterday, and he decided that the man's death was due to uraemic convulsions.

CASE CONTINUED.

Horace Collingsworth was before the Police Court this morning charged with disposing of a watch and fob belonging to Walter Cash. The latter stated that last Saturday he entered a room in the upper portion of the old City Hotel where he found four men among whom was Collingsworth. When he reached home he discovered that the watch and fob had been taken. The matter was reported to the police, who ascertained that Collingsworth had thrown the fob away and pawned the watch. The prisoner in his defense said he found the watch and fob on a back porch of the City Hotel. The case was continued until tomorrow morning.

CRIES OF MURDER.

Cries of murder on the old fair grounds at a late hour last Saturday night brought Officers Nicholson and Talbot to that place. They found a white man, named John Herold, and took him in custody. This morning he was arraigned in the Police Court when he stated that he had been drinking and was assaulted by an unknown man and cried murder in order to summon assistance. He was dismissed.

SUMMONED TO APPEAR.

Judge Barley in the Corporation Court today issued a rule against Charles Atwell and Joseph E. Schwarzmann returnable at 4 o'clock this evening to show cause why their names should not be stricken from the voting lists. It is understood that of the two thousand names which have been gone over carefully by Mr. Gordon, candidate for Congress, and his attorneys, there remain but the two mentioned above, who, it is charged, are not properly on the list, and when Judge Barley's attention was called to the matter this morning he promptly issued the rule in order to ascertain whether or not the charge is just.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH ELECTS A PASTOR.

Following the regular morning service at the First Baptist Church yesterday the committee on pulpit relations submitted its report, and the church subsequently proceeded to elect a pastor; the choice falling to Rev. W. F. Watson, at present pastor of the South Street Baptist Church, Portsmouth, Va. A formal official call was extended to Mr. Watson today. He is a man of culture and decided gifts and one with a fine record as a pastor. The church decided to set apart the 3rd Sunday in June for the election of two deacons.

A Famous Regiment.

It is doubtful if any other one regiment furnished an equal number of distinguished officers during the civil war as did the Second United States cavalry. Among the officers were Albert Sidney Johnston, colonel; Robert E. Lee, lieutenant colonel; William J. Hardee, brevet lieutenant colonel; George H. Thomas, major. Robert E. Lee and A. S. Johnston became generals in the Confederate army, and Hardee became lieutenant general. Thomas became a distinguished general in the Federal army. Among the captains were Earl Van Dorn, E. Kirby Smith and N. G. Evans, all of whom became generals in the Confederate army. I. N. Palmer, George Stoneman and R. W. Johnson held the same positions in the Union army. Among the subalterns John B. Hood, Charles W. Field, Chambliss and Phifer became southern generals, and R. Garrard and others attained the same place in the northern army. Captain Evans left the United States' service before Colonel Robert E. Lee did, and when they parted at Fort Mason, Tex., Colonel Lee said: "I'm sorry to give you up, Evans. Don't know what may happen before we meet again. Perhaps they'll make you a general."

Helping Him Out.

Mr. Lord looked so grave one evening that his wife, a very young one, noticed it and asked what was the matter.

"I suppose business is troubling you," she surmised shrewdly. "If you've struck a snag, why don't you tell me, and perhaps I may be able to help you?"

After more affectionate adjuration Lord admitted that his payroll bothered him.

"I've made it up as far as the workmen go," he said, "but if I pay the stenographer there won't be a penny left for Davis and me. Davis says he can't stand that. He must have some money this month."

Lord's wife was momentarily grave; then her face brightened.

"Why don't you give the stenographer a month's vacation," she suggested eagerly, "then divide what there is with Davis? It seems to me," judicially, "that would be fair all round."—Youth's Companion.

The Story of Starlight.

"Once there was a group of sportsmen who were all quite broke," said a Jocky club official. "They must, however, get in to the races, and one at a time they presented themselves at the paddock gate.

"'I am the owner of Starlight,' the first said. He was well dressed and imposing. They believed and passed him in.

"'I am Starlight's trainer,' said the second. His red face and bluff manner bore out his story, and they admitted him.

"'The third man, small and thin, next appeared.

"'Starlight's jockey,' he said shortly and hurried through the gate.

"The fourth and last man of the group was very shabby indeed.

"'Well, who are you?' they said impatiently when he presented himself.

"'I am Starlight,' was the meek reply."—Los Angeles Times.

Navel Oranges.

Possibly not every one has heard the anecdote about the dear old mother whose son had been promoted to be first lieutenant in the navy. He sent her a box of fine navel oranges from Florida and this brief note:

Dear Mother—Just a handful of navel oranges, something you will find especially choice. Devotedly, JACK.

Speaking of Jack to some guests at the house a few nights later as they were enjoying the oranges, she remarked: "Just the very best boy in all the world, dear, dear Jack. What a splendid sailor, and every inch an officer! But he never could learn to spell. Just think of a lieutenant spelling naval with an 'e' and a small 'n.' Isn't it embarrassing to a mother? Still it sounds all the same when you speak it."—New York Press.

"The Morning Tub."

A few years ago a sister of mine called in to see an old lady who lived in a little cottage in Lincolnshire and in course of conversation happened to mention that she had a cold sponge-down every morning.

"Law, miss," said the old lady, "and does your mother know?"

"Yes, certainly, and she quite approves."

"Well," said the old lady, "Ah washes mi face ivvery daay, an' Ah washes mi neck once a week, but Ah've nivver bin washed all ower since Ah was a baby."

This good lady lived to the ripe old age of ninety-three.—Cor. London News.

The Lotus Eaters.

The race of people to whom the name "Lotus Eaters" was applied was a Lybian tribe, known to the Greeks as early as the time of Homer. Heredotus describes their country and says that a caravan route led from it to Egypt. The lotus still grows there in great abundance—a prickly shrub bearing a fruit of a sweet taste, compared by Herodotus to that of the date. It is still eaten by the natives, and a kind of wine is made from its juice.

Superfluous.

Copy Reader—How will it do to head this story "A Growing Scandal?" City Editor—Cut out the "growing." That's redundant. A scandal always grows.—Chicago Tribune.

The Sun From a Balloon.

At the height of two miles the sun shines with a fierce intensity unknown below, where the dust and the denser air scatter the rays, which, thus diffused, lose their intensity while illumining every nook and corner of our houses. At heights exceeding five miles this diffused light is mostly gone, and the sun shines a glowing ball, sharply outlined in a sky of which the blue is so dark as to approach blackness. At the outer limits of the atmosphere the sun would appear a brilliant star of massive size among other stars, and if one stepped from its burning rays into shadow he would enter Egyptian darkness. At the height of a mile and a half we found it necessary to shelter our faces to prevent sunburn, although the air around us was but little warmer than that of the previous night, being about 45 degrees. As the afternoon wore on and the balloon began to cool and sink we were obliged to throw out much sand, casting it away a scoopful at a time, and just after sunset it was even necessary to empty two or three bags at once.—H. H. Clayton in Atlantic.

Too Significant.

"These Spanish names in California puzzle me, but some of them have very interesting meanings," commented a guest of one of the hotels.

"Yes?" said the manager.

"They do, for a fact; they really do. I am keeping track of a list in my notebook. But the funny thing was in Santa Barbara. Listen to this: 'Indio Muerto street, meaning dead Indian.' Ah, here it is, the one I was after, a street named 'Salsipuedes.' Well, this street's the one that runs to the hospital up on the sloping hillside above the town. When they built the hospital, they were at a loss for a name. Some one suggested calling it after this street. And they did. Then they happened to look up the meaning of the word."

"And what does it mean?" asked the manager.

"'Salsipuedes' was originally a street that wandered up and down through a series of ravines, and it means 'Get out if you can.' Good name for a jail, but not for a hospital."—San Francisco Chronicle.

The Queen's Lesson.

One of the ladies in waiting to the late Queen Victoria had a very bright little daughter about four years old and of whom the queen was very fond The queen invited the child to have lunch with her. Of course the mother was highly pleased and charged the little girl to be very careful about her table manners and to be very polite to the queen.

The little girl came home in high glee, and the mother asked her all about the luncheon. "Were you a very polite little girl? And did you remember to do all I told you at the table?" asked the proud mamma.

"Oh, yes; I was polite," said the little girl, "but the queen wasn't."

"The queen wasn't!" said the mother. "Why, what did she do?"

"She took her chicken bone up in her fingers, and I just shook my finger at her, like you did at me, and said, 'Piggy, piggy, piggy!'"—Philadelphia North American.

Over the Eggs and Bacon.

He scraped with his knife a bit of butter off the sporting page.

"The writer of that poem on flying is accused of plagiarism now," he said.

"It's awful," she exclaimed, "the way these men go about the country marrying innocent women! Wipe your mustache, dear."

He wiped his mustache and, with a frown, inspected the result upon his napkin.

"Plagiarism," he said, "means a literary theft."

"Stole some books, did he?"

"No, no; he stole ideas. They say a woman wrote the poem years ago."

"And now they bring it up against her, eh? Oh, these newspapers! But look at the mess you've made there with your coffee. I do wish you'd try to be a little more careful."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Cure For Dipsomania.

Flesh food is the chief cause of dipsomania. When men are properly nourished upon noninflammatory diet that is rich in proteid and nerve and tissue building substance—such as nuts of all kinds and their products, cereal foods (wheat meal, oatmeal, macaroni, rice, etc.), legumes (haricots, lentils and peas), fruits of every sort and dairy produce (cheese, milk and eggs)—they do not crave for strong drink, nor are they in danger of taking alcohol to excess.—London Health Record.

In the Dime Museum.

"What did you do with my thermometer?" demanded the doctor who had been called in to attend one of the freaks.

"I swallowed it, doc," answered the glass eater. "Thought it was my medicine."—Pittsburg Press.

Confusing English.

"I see one of our battleships reported fast in the mud."

"Well?"

"I was just thinking that a ship fast in the mud ought to be a record breaker on the open sea."—Pick-Me-Up.

Money is a sort of creation and gives the acquirer even more than the possessor an imagination of his own power and tends to make him idolize self.—Cardinal Newman.

Conquering Temptation.

To conquer temptation you must live it down alone, as you must die alone, and no vicarious gift of strength can take the place of a man's own will.—From "My Journal."
